circumstances of each assignment. Her consulting practice encompasses a wide range of healthcare organizations across the nation, including large integrated systems, community hospitals, medical group practices, faith-based health systems and hospitals, and academic medical centers.

As the managing principal, Jane directs multiple client engagements and is a designer of the firm's executive search consulting methodologies and practices. She is an invited national speaker and panelist on healthcare leadership topics.

Jane values the long-standing client relationships that she and members of the MSA Executive Search team have established, as well as those developing each year with new clients.

Prior to joining Integrated Healthcare Strategies, Jane held positions as Vice President Human Resources/Organizational Development at an academic medical center, a multi-hospital system, and a community hospital. She is a Business Management graduate of the University of South Florida and a member of the American Society of Healthcare Human Resources Administrators, the Society for Human Resources Management, and the American College of Healthcare Executives.
